

STARGAZING LIVE

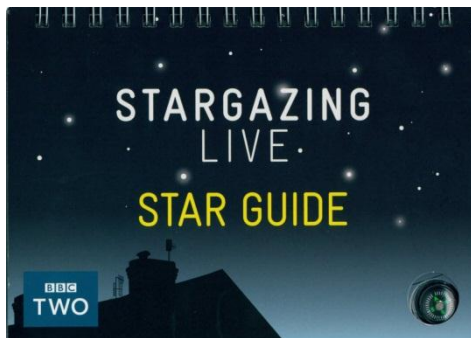

BBC
TWO

Stargazing LIVE is returning to BBC Two on the 16th-18th of January 2012. In 2011 the series was a huge success and inspired over 300 partner-led Stargazing events nationwide, from Glen Nevis to Guernsey. We would love you to get involved!

Events

Stargazing LIVE events can take place during January 2012. Your event could be something that you have already planned, or something you run especially for this occasion, in 2011 we all sorts of events from Stargazing cycle rides to sidewalk astronomy, let your imagination run wild! You may have run stargazing events before and be brimming with ideas. But if this is your first time or you are stuck for inspiration or lack astronomical skills we can discuss possibilities for partnerships with local astronomy groups, direct you towards some useful resources and generally do everything we can to help you create a stellar event!

Free Resources

Whatever you choose to do, we'll support your event with exciting free Stargazing LIVE resources which will include activities and suggestions suitable for all ages, and the return of the all-new amazing Stargazing LIVE Star Guide which was so popular in 2011.

Why not take a look at last year's resources to get a flavour at our website:

Your Commitment

Your event can be of any size or shape, but there are a few criteria that it must meet in order for it to qualify as a Stargazing LIVE Event:

- The event should be free for the public to attend, or run on a cost-recovery basis (i.e. charges are recovering the cost of putting on the event rather than profit-making)
- The event should be registered on our new and improved online events system Things To Do and will be subject to the terms and conditions of this site.

- You should be prepared to display BBC Stargazing LIVE branding and offer BBC Stargazing LIVE resources at the event.

Returns to BBC Two on the 16th 17th and 18th January 2012

Live Broadcast

Although there are plans to hold regional broadcast events during the nights of the programme, due to the huge scale of Stargazing LIVE it is unlikely we will be able to send a film crew to your event. You will of course be able to watch along with us on BBC Two, or catch up after broadcast on iPlayer. There will be several ways to stay in touch from the field by sending in your questions and photos to the team, exact details TBA!
